Petro-Canada Palmyra BV

Education:

1979 Bachelor of Science in Geology, University of Wales Aberystwyth; 1983 Master of Science in Mineral Exploration, Royal School of Mines, London; 1983 Diploma of Imperial College, London.

Professional Experience:

From 1979 – 1985, Jon Ferrier worked with Anglo American Prospecting (South Africa) as a Field Geologist. He then joined Conoco's London office in 1985 and, over the following years, held a number of senior positions with the company including: Senior Geologist for Development Projects, London; Staff Geologist – International Exploration, (Headquarters Support Group) Houston; Geological Advisor – New Ventures, Norske Conoco, Stavanger; Senior Geological Advisor (Aberdeen), Conoco – Strategy Portfolio Management Group; Commercial Negotiator (Aberdeen / London), Conoco – Business Development; Inzerei Project Manager (Moscow), Conoco Phillips – Business Development.

In 2003 Jon became Commercial Manager for Paladin Resources Norway (Stavanger) where he was responsible for the management of all commercial and legal aspects of Paladin's Norwegian and Danish portfolio including commercial representation in all joint ventures. In 2004 he moved to Paladin Resources plc in London as Business Development Manager in order to bring stronger leadership to the M&A process.

Following the sale of Paladin to Talisman, Jon moved to Petro-Canada, London in 2006 as Business Development Manager, International New Ventures and LNG, responsible for new business outside Petro-Canada's existing areas of operation. The primary focus was to secure an upstream LNG supply position for Petro-Canada as well as LNG commercial sales agreements. In this capacity he led negotiations on projects in Russia, Algeria, Qatar and Nigeria.

Jon Ferrier has been General Manager of the Petro-Canada companies in Syria since May 2008. He is responsible for the timely and safe development of the Ebla Gas Project – a US$1billion investment over two years. Petro-Canada Syria companies are owned by Suncor Energy, Canada's largest oil and gas company.
